Forgot the Cheque Book – No Problem Lesson Program

Dun Rite Stock and Stables - Bentley Alberta

February 14, 2010 Dun Rite Stock and Stables announces an innovative new lesson program.

When Doug and Katie Roxburgh designed their new lesson program they had customer convenience in mind. Customers will now have the opportunity to pre pay for a package of lessons eliminating the need to bring the cheque book or cash to each lesson.

The increased benefit to this program is the more lessons purchased in advance the cheaper each lesson becomes. For those customers looking for the ultimate savings there is a one year membership available. This offer allows the customer to pay one fee and receive unlimited lessons for that calendar year. In addition to the new lesson program, there are also incentives and discounts available for those that attend a Dun Rite Stock and Stables clinic or workshop.

Dun Rite Stock and Stables is located 7km north of Bentley Alberta. The lesson program is unique for each individual and based around the goals the individual is striving towards. Along with their clients Doug and Katie Roxburgh have achieved success in the APHA, PtHA, and open show arenas. Katie Roxburgh is the resident trainer and co owner of Dun Rite Stock and Stables. She uses her experience in multiple disciplines and breeds to assist customers in maximizing their potential as well as the horse's potential. A huge focus of the program is assisting competitors that wish to show at the breed or open show level to achieve these goals without placing their horses in full time training.
